

Education

What is the Education Element?

The Education Element describes how Wellington, through its partnerships with the School District of Palm Beach County, local private education providers, cultural organizations, and local business partners, supports high quality educational opportunities and services for residents of all ages. Establishes priorities for effective collaboration with local education partners that reflect a shared commitment to educational excellence in programs and facilities.

Wellington recognizes lifelong learning opportunities are important for all segments of the population and strives to offer both formal and informal learning opportunities to maintain a high quality of life for its residents. A wide variety of lifelong learning opportunities are available within the Village, offered by public, private, and cultural organizations. These partnerships enrich the community and will continue to be part of the Wellington's educational strategy.
