MWI Corporation, a custom engineered and fabricator of pumping equipment is a sole source product. MWI Corporation is a manufacturing company that provides sales, rentals, and service for these pumps. We are the Sole Source for parts and service for these pumps. MWI Corporation technical specifications for the Model NW348x54 axial flow pumps are proprietary. Our design of the shaft and bearing arrangement and certified impeller, all in conjunction, are a proprietary product of MWI Corporation. Consequently, MWI Corporation is the only entity capable of properly restoring the MWI Couch pumps back to the OEM specification. Furthermore, your source (directly from the factory) is the only avenue of purchase because of exclusive distribution and marketing rights.

Sincerely,

Tom Hyde
